

TLC STUDENT OF THE MONTH

Each month TLC will select a student who has benefitted from our services. June's student is – Matthew Anderson!

Matthew Anderson is an Associate of Science student at SCC. He decided to attend when he found it was the most affordable choice that met his requirements.

Matthew's favorite season is autumn, when he enjoys metal detecting. He hasn't found anything valuable yet, but he still has a good time looking. His treasure, so far, consists of soda cans and nails, but that hasn't stopped him from trying. He prefers to do his metal detecting in the fall because that's when the vegetation has died down.

Matthew first learned about The Learning Center from his instructors, and now he visits at least three times each week. He has found that it is most beneficial to review small increments of material instead of large chunks. Matthew says, "Working with a TLC tutor on a regular basis is much better than waiting until the day before a test and asking lots of questions all at once."

Please join us in encouraging Matthew Anderson, our June "Student of the Month."

June 2010

